KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Meeting of the Grand Lodge Yesterday.

Yesterday the 18th annual session of Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Nevada was called to order in Old Fellows' Hall at 10 A. M. by Grand Chancellor Bray. The following grand officers answered to roll call: W. W. Rogers, P. G. C.; J. E. Bray, G. C.; Benj. Currier, V. C.; G. J. D. King, G. P.; A. B. Stoddard, G. K. of R. and S.; T. J. Price, G. M. at A.; W. U. Mackey, G. I. G.

Twenty-five representatives were present.

After the report of the Committee on Credentials, the Grand Lodge adjourned till 1 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the roll of Representatives was called, the Grand Chancellor appointed the following Committee on Distribution: J. P. Meder, No. 1; W. H. A. Cobb, No. 12; J. A. Conboie, No. 11.

Reports of Grand officers were received and referred to Committee on Distribution.

The various vacancies on the Committee were filled by the Chair.

Several Committee reports were presented and acted upon.

Recess for 15 minutes.
After recess the Grand Chancellor appointed the following Memorial Committee on the death of Justus H. Rathbone, the founder of the Order and Past Supreme Chancellor: M. C. McMillan, No. 1; W. H. A. Cobb, No. 12; Benjamin Currier, No. 16.

After the regular Committees had reported the Grand Lodge adjourned until 9 this morning.

THE EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT.
The Opera House was crowded in the evening to witness the free entertainment given to the visiting Knights. The following programme was rendered:

Selection, Band.
Address of Welcome, Dr. Bergstein.
Double Quartette.
Response, Grand Chancellor Bray.
Song and Dance, Miss Lottie Meder.
Remarks by G. V. C. Currier.
Selection, Band.
Vocal Solo, Miss Ballard.
Quartette.
Dance by 16 young ladies.

The feature of the evening was the drill by sixteen young ladies, and the general impression was that they equalled any professionals. They were encored to the echo.
The solo by Miss Mamie Ballard was so well rendered that the audience called her out again, and her singing elicited loud applause.

The song and dance by Miss Lottie Meder was loudly applauded and encored.

The Capitol Band under Prof. Lindsay's leadership received their share of applause. John P. Meder managed the entire affair.

The Show Question.
A good many people blame Manager Piper for not bringing Bernhard, Modjeska, Edwin Booth and Patti to Carson. As a matter of fact Mr. Piper has no option in who he brings to Carson. For instance the manager of the Baldwin theater telegraphs to take a certain combination. If he refuses, he gets no more combinations from the Baldwin manager. The managers of the large theaters have troupes sent them from the East and they having more than they can handle, distribute them about the country. The country manager who refuses to accept a troupe that any city manager sends him is simply cut off the circuit and if he is, he might as well close up his theater. Mr. Piper aims to get the best he can, but he is obliged to take everything that is sent him from below, good or bad and indifferent. Carson has done so poorly by his shows of late that he is considering the prospects of cutting the Capitol out of the circuit for the summer as he has lost money four times in succession here.

The regular meeting of the Carson High School Debating Society will be held to-day June 13.

His Nose Was All Right.

Considerable fuss is being made by our neighbors up North, because some school book agents have succeeded in bribing a Board. The excitement is said to be intense. Bribing State Boards in the interest of school books has been carried on all over the Union for years, even in this State. Some years ago, a man representing a school book ring, called at the APPEAL office and asked the editor if he had any influence with the men in the Capitol building who decided the school book question. The editor replied that he had none whatever.

The old fellow said he could count on one vote and didn't the editor know how he could get the other.

"Probably by paying for it," was the reply.

"My dear sir," he responded looking very pious, "our firm don't do that sort of business—"unless" he added with a sly twinkle of his weather eye, "unless we have to."

"Do you suppose that either of those other two would smash me in the nose if I offered him money," he added still looking cunning and sly.

"How long have you been in the business of fixing, these school-book rackets?"

"About thirty years."

"None ever hurt?"

"Never."

"Do you think officials are more belligerent here than back East?"

"Guess I'll go over and see."

He started for the Capitol building and when he bounded the train two hours later, he winked at the writer and smiled as he said, "Our books are on top and my nose is alright yet."

Faded Clories.

Jim Townsend thus discourses on the departed beauties in an old hostelry where he once used to have unlimited credit:

The once famous Red Onion Hotel, just east of the brewery, has fallen from its former high estate, having been recently turned into a chicken-house by Col. Jack Becker. It was built eleven years ago by Matt. Elliott, Ben McKnight and Billy Robson, and at that time it was considered an imposing structure. Full many a boisterous drunk has been fired from its doors, and many a dusky damsel has wondered at its gorgeous belongings. But they are things of the past. Henceforth it will be nothing but a big hen-coop. Becker has made a good speculation, as it is presumed that there are bed-bugs enough in the house to feed his birds for a year or two.

ALL SORTS.

Judge King of Reno is in the city.

Miss White's class will be examined today at the North Ward.

Allen Bragg of the Gazette has had another stroke of paralysis.

All who take part in the De-strick Skule entertainment are requested to be at the Opera House to-night at 7 o'clock sharp.

A big tree in the Mammoth Forest, fifty-two miles East of Tulare, is being taken out for exhibition. The tree is ninety-nine feet in circumference. It is intended also for the World's Fair.

Mrs. Maude Stine has just received another new stock of millinery which will be disposed of at very low prices. Children's leg-horn and fancy straw hats a specialty. Ladies wanting stylish goods should call. m25

L. H. Leach of Vancouver, Wash., a leading member of the Board of Education of Washington State, has made the announcement to the Board of the Olympia that he has been offered $500 as a bribe to bring about a reconsideration of the text-book adoption and lay it before the Board.

AMERICA IS AN LO-SAXON.

EDITOR APPEAL.—In a communication addressed to you in Tuesday's issue of your paper, a correspondent questions the truth of an assertion recently made, that Americans are descendants of the Anglo-Saxon race. Of course, it is not literally true of all who live in America today. A more careful reading of the statement in its connections would have shown it to be a general one. In that sense the assertion is wholly true. The vast majority of the American people are blood descendants of the Anglo-Saxon race, and are inheritors of the great Anglo-Saxon principles of liberty and free government. Not a single valuable principle has been developed by any other nationality. Neither the Celt nor the Gaul has had anything to contribute to the progress of mankind. Save only in America the Celt, under the inspiration of Rome, has fought against the progress of liberty and free government.

I yield to none in genuine admiration for the many good qualities of the Celtic race. They have produced many brilliant men. They have seemed to deserve a better place and better fate than has been theirs in history. They did grand service in the colonial cause. They helped most efficiently to gain American independence.

What was that struggle? It was not a struggle to throw off the "Saxon yoke." The limitation of the word "Saxon" to England is unwarranted by the facts of history. The Anglo-Saxon race has three great centers around which its history revolves: First, the Northwestern part of continental Europe; second, England, and third, North America.

The American revolution was a contest of the Saxons in America with the Saxons in the mother country for independence and a larger liberty. In that struggle both the Celt and the Gaul bore an important part, not as contributing either principles or institutions of government, but as helping to establish and to give a wider field of action to those principles and institutions which had been developed by the liberty loving and progressive Anglo-Saxon. Yours truly,

C. L. LOGAN.

WHAT ON EARTH—Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing.—W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

LOST.—Since June 3rd, a white horse, has had a blister on his right shoulder which is now a small bump, the skin being black; two cuts about six inches long on the inside of the forelegs near the breast and a little stiff in gait. Having owned him but a short time, these are the only brands by which I can identify him, he is supposed to have been lost. Whoever will bring him to Mr. Frank Langevin will receive $5. j10

HOW CAN PARENTS—Allow their children to cough and calmly say: "Oh! its only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by using BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.
